Bush Street Tree Walk

Mountain View, Ca

This Tree Walk features the trees that can be found on the very northern 3 blocks of Bush St in Mtn View, CA. There is an interesting assortment of common, and not so common, trees to look at and enjoy.

This location was chosen specifically because of the presence of a rare occurrence of Radermachera sinica at 279 Bush. This tree is also known as the China Doll and is tree number 11 on this walk. Of course, every tree is interesting and significant in its own way, which is exactly why trees are so much valued. They feed us, shelter us, clean our air, give us beauty to gaze upon and make our skylines much more interesting than they would be otherwise.

So enjoy the Radermachera for its interest and rarity, but take the time and energy to appreciate and ponder all the trees on this walk, and indeed, the trees all around us. Our lives would not be the same without them.
